JPMorgan Chase

Web Design Consultant
Columbus, Ohio
June - August 2014

My duties at JPMorgan Chase included using Adobe Dreamweaver to create and update the internal web pages for Chase's mortgage call centers. I helped maintain JPMC's huge directory of over 55,000 files while working with technical writers on a daily basis to incorporate their text and design needs into the files.

Crown Equipment Corporation

Web Page and UX Designer
New Bremen, Ohio
Feb. 2000 - June 2014

Helped design and maintained the web page for Crown. My main duties included creating and editing html pages, modifying the style sheet, along with creating web graphics, such as the graphics on the slider of the front page. I worked with Google Analytics for their sites as well. At the time when I started working at Crown, the website traffic was around a few thousand visitors per year, and when I left they were getting over 1.1 million visits per year. #### Examples of work that I've done for Crown:

Self starter – Crown's IS team performed an update to their servers which broke our search feature on crown.com. We took it offline right away, but we were told by IS that it might take over a month until they could fix the problem. I took it upon myself to find an alternative solution using Google's site search feature, and I implemented it across all of our sites within a week. It worked great and was very inexpensive. Global web projects - I helped create foreign language sites for Crown's current web page, including French, Spanish, Dutch, Russian, Italian, German, and British English. I worked with people from the foreign countries to get the translations, and then I created the pages, created the artwork, and then deployed them. I also helped train Crown employees from the different countries to edit the pages using our CMS.

Romer's Catering & Entertainment Facilities

Freelance Web Page Designer
St. Henry, Ohio
January 2000 - June 2014

Designed their current web page using Drupal. I did everything from start to finish, including the artwork, layout, and programming. This is the third version of their web page that I've created for them in the last 14 years. At the end of June I handed the web page over to them to maintain and update.
